FOR CHANGE OF LIFE.

ZODIAC, Mo., March 13

Your McElree's Wine of Cardui is doing for me you recommend it to do. For female weakness and of life it cannot be surpassed.

MRS. ED. T. BAR

COMRADES.

We from childhood played together,
My dear comrade, Jack and I.
We would fight each other's battles,
To each other's aid would fly ;
And in boyish scrapes and troubles
You would find us everywhere ;
Where one went the other followed,
Naught could part us, for we were :

CHORUS.

Comrades, comrades ever since we were boys,
Sharing each other's sorrows, sharing each other's joys ;

Comrades when manhood was dawning,
Faithful whate'er might betide ;
When danger threaten'd, my darling old comrade was there by my side !

I enlisted, Jack came with me,
And ups and downs we shared ;
For a time our lives were peaceful,
But at length war was declared ;
England's flag had been insulted,
We were ordered to the front,
And the regiment we belonged to
Had to bear the battle's brunt.—Chorus.

In the night the savage foemen
Crept around us as we lay !
To our arms we leaped and faced them,
Back to back we stood at bay !
As I fought, a savage at me
Aimed his spear, like lightning's dart,
But my comrade sprang to save me,
And received it in his heart.—Chorus.

ODA GILDERSLEVE, Oakwood, Ill., says, Dec. 9th, 1891 : I have been sick for several years. McElree's Wine of Cardui has entirely cured me.

Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

SYMPTOMS: Acrid rising in the throat, heartburn, nausea and sometimes vomiting, thick phlegm in the mouth, bad taste in the morning, offensive breath, loss of appetite, ringing in ears, weak eyes, pain in the head and sometimes sick-headache, depressed spirits, constipated bowels, gnawing at the pit of the stomach, painful heartburn, chilly sensations, palpitation of the heart, oppressive breathing, irritable disposition and indescribable pains in all parts of the body.

TREATMENT: M. A. Thedford & Co.'s Black-Draught used after meals as directed in each package has cured more cases of Dyspepsia and Indigestion in the past fifty years than any and all other medicines combined. The powdered medicine is best and may be taken dry or made into a tea, as preferred.

Case No. 9,856. } This case was a man forty years of age who had suffered for six years with acrid risings of food in the throat, heartburn and nausea. Had no appetite but continual thirst and dryness of the mouth and throat. He was very susceptible to change of weather and almost constantly had cold in the head and chilly sensations. Had frequent buzzing in the ears and dizziness. He got a $1.00 package of Thedford's Black-Draught, made a fresh tea from it every other day, and took a spoonful after every meal. He improved after the first dose, and in two weeks reported himself cured.

BELTON, BELL Co., TEX., }
March 22, 1890. }

I am 28 years old, and have been troubled with dyspepsia ever since I can recollect. By reading the Ladies' Birthday Almanac I was induced to try a 25-cent package of Thedford's Black-Draught powders, and a bottle of McElree's Wine of Cardui. I have not taken half of either, but can say that I am sound and well, and I think both medicines deserve more praise than you give them.

FIVE YEARS WITHOUT DOCTORS.

VIOLA, INDIAN TER., Jan. 4th, 1892.

When my wife commenced using Thedford's Black-Draught she weighed 115 pounds; now she weighs 150 pounds. We have used it in our family of seven for five years, and have not paid a doctor's bill in that time.

AULD LANG SYNE.

Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And never bro't to mind;
Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And days o' lang syne?

CHORUS.

For auld lang syne, my dear,
For auld lang syne,
We'll take a cup o' kindness yet
For auld lang syne.

We two ha'e run about the braes,
And pu'd the gowans fine;
But we've wandered mony a weary foot,
Sin' auld lang syne.—Chorus.

And there's a hand, my trusty frien;
And gi'es a hand o' thine;
And we'll take a vicht gtde-wilile waught,
For auld lang syne.—Chorus.

REV. J. H. WALLIS, a Baptist divine, of Conyers, Ga., writes Feb. 8th, 1892: "My wife has suffered from Asthma for fifteen years. After trying all remedies that were recommended for this disease, she commenced taking Thedford's Black-Draught and continued it for twelve months, and is now entirely cured."

THE CELEBRATED WOODHAM CASE.

WARRENTON, MARSHALL Co., ALA., }
November 17, 1889. }

Mess. M. A. Thedford & Co.:

I wish to give Thedford's Black-Draught the praise of all I ever tried.

I was bothered for two years with stomach worms, but they stayed in the lower part. I suffered forty deaths. I was a poor farmer, a renter, had four children, none of them able to help me. I had not a dollar. I went to see the doctors, and they wanted a great sum of money to cure me. I bought a box of Black-Draught from a peddler in March, 1887, and I knew at once that it was helping me. I used it for twelve months, two or three times a month, till I was on a stand-still. I decided, after reading about it, that I would give it a fair trial. I took all I could bear for ten days. On the ninth day I was very weak. The tenth day I could hear it cutting in my left side plain. In the afternoon of the tenth day there was flecks passed off from my liver eight inches long, two inches thick, and strong as cloth. I was a new man at once. I reckon I have caused the sale of a thousand boxes of the medicine in this county. I could write a piece a mile long about it, but I say it is the best family medicine made in the world. If you can get any thing out of this worth publishing, go ahead. I have given the medicine a fair trial and it does all you claim.

Yours truly,

A. A. WOODHAM.

Mr. Woodham is a well-known and reliable citizen of Marshall Co., Ala.

AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

MRS. L. A. CRUNY, VILLAGE, ARK. Feb'y 19, 1892, writes:
I have suffered with sick-headache for twenty years, and during the last year had a nervous attack twice a week. Two months ago I commenced using Thedford's Black-Draught and have had only one slight attack since.

ARE YOU GOING TO THE BALL?

Not long ago while walking out
Along the avenue,
I tumbled on a big surprise,
It struck me as quite new.
The boys and girls were in their glee,
It was about midday,
I thought it shockingly absurd,
Whene'er I heard them say:

CHORUS.—Good evening, this evening,
Are you going to the ball?
Not this evening, good evening,
Good evening, one and all.
Fine evening, this evening,
This evening's very warm,
Good evening, this evening,
Good evening, take my arm.

While wondering and pondering
Just what it all could mean,
I chanced to look around and spy
The sweetest little queen.
She looked so real bewitching sweet
I sighed and said, O dear,
She sailed up, seized me by the nose
And whispered in my ear:—CHORUS.

We strolled along, both side by side,
She said I was her mash,
Then dragged me in a restaurant
And ordered up some hash.
She must have fasted forty days,
I'm sure she ate her fill,
She sweetly smiled, and I was beguiled
And settled up the bill.

MRS. REBECCA M. JONES, DOTA, ARK., January 30, 1892.
After giving Thedford's Black-Draught a thorough trial, we think it superior to any medicine we ever used for all bilious diseases.

Constipated Bowels.

This troublesome disease is not only dangerous in itself, but frequently causes piles, bowel and stomach diseases, and destroys the health of thousands of women yearly. It should never be neglected in its mildest stage, as an interruption of the daily stools may lay the foundation of diseases often incurable. It is through the bowels that the waste and decayed matter of the human system finds an escape. Costiveness may be the result of neglect, as a habit of going to the stool regularly is very important, but more frequently it is caused by a torpid liver.

How to } Attend the stool at a regular hour
Cure It. } each day, whether you feel like it or not, and remain there half an hour if necessary. Take a sufficient dose of Thedford's Black-Draught tea to promote one movement of the bowels each day. Decrease the size of the dose each day until there is no necessity for it. The mild, stimulating character of this tea recommends it particularly to women, and in larger doses to men.

Case No. } This case was a lady who had suffered for years with chronic constipation of the bowels. For months before she applied to us she had no action from the bowels without taking some kind of pills, and they gave her only temporary relief. The trouble had finally become complicated with piles, and had also caused serious derangement of her menstrual periods. She took a dose of tea made from Thedford's Black-Draught at bed-time every night, until a regular daily action of the bowels was established. She also took McElree's Wine of Cardui at each return of the monthly period to correct the menstrual derangement. Her health was completely restored in less than two months.

W. M. McCarter, Bowman, Tate Co., Miss.—My wife has found Thedford's Black-Draught to be the best remedy for constipation of the bowels that has ever been discovered.

Sick Headache.

WOMEN are usually more susceptible to attacks of this disease than men. It is generally caused by indigestion, derangement of the stomach, or a torpid liver. A dose of Thedford's Black-Draught taken when the first symptoms of an attack are felt, will usually prevent it. A dose after the attack, repeated in two or three hours if not relieved, will usually cure the worst case. An occasional dose by persons subject to the disease, is generally a sure preventative.

Suffered from Infancy } Case No. 14,456.—A lady living in Michigan had been a sufferer with sick-headache from infancy. When a little girl she could eat no sweetmeats, nuts or cake without being prostrated the next day with sick stomach and headache. As she grew up she was attacked every two weeks with the dread disease, and yearly it became worse. She had regular periodical attacks twice a month, and the least over-eating, extra exertion or excitement was sure to bring on an attack. These attacks would often last two days, and during the time she could not raise her head from her pillow without becoming deathly sick and vomiting. We advised her to try a tea made from Thedford's Black-Draught, to be taken just before an expected attack. The first month she had only one slight attack, and twelve months after she wrote that she was entirely cured, having had no headache in six months, and her general health was greatly improved.

SPRINGTOWN, PARKER Co., TEX., }
March 6, 1890. }

I have been a sufferer from sick headache since boyhood, never finding anything to relieve it, until about four years ago, I tried Thedford's Black-Draught. I still have a little headache, once in a while, but I am almost cured, and I would not take $100 for the good it has done me.

JULIA ANNA JOHNSON.

I just come down to see my girl,
She lives in yonder cot,
Miss Primrose is her name,
That name I can't forgot.
I know I've got a rival,
Who comes here on the sly,
If I can catch that fellow,
I'll blacken both his eyes.

CHORUS.

Julia Anna Johnson,
You're all the world to me,
And when you are my little wife,
How happy we will be. [Repeat.]

Julia, you must excuse me,
I could not come last night,
My sister's dog was very sick,
And the cat he had a fight.
I'll be in the kitchen, love,
Waiting there for you,
Don't forget to meet me,
At the hour of half-past two.

J. D. DUKE, NEW BOSTON, TEX., Feb'y 28, 1892, says: I can recommend Thedford's Black-Draught for Liver Complaint and Backache, and my wife says, there is nothing equal to it for sick headache and intercostal pains.

IT HAS NO EQUAL.

BOWIE, MONTAGUE CO., TEXAS, Dec. 10th, 1891.

For constipation, colds, chills and fever, and any derangement of the Liver, Thedford's Black-Draught has no equal. I have used it in my family for years, and know its value.

D. A. GRIFFIN.

MAGGIE BY MY SIDE.

The land of my home is flitting,
Flitting from my view.
A gale in the sails is sitting,
Toil the merry crew.
Here let my home be, on the water's tide;
I roam with a proud heart, Maggie's by my side.

CHORUS.

My own love! Maggie dear, sitting by my side,
Maggie dear! my own love! sitting by my side.

The wind howling o'er the billow
From the distant lea,
The storm raging round my pillow,
Bring no care to me.
Roll on, ye dark waves, o'er the troubled tide;
I heed not your anger, Maggie's by my side.

—Chorus.

Storms can appal me never,
While her brow is clear;
Fair weather lingers ever
Where her smiles appear.
When sorrow's breakers round my heart shall hide,
Still may I find her sitting by my side.—Chorus.

MRS. MARY MARSHALL, of Conway, Florida, writes, Dec. 7th, 1891: I have suffered with Sick Headache for ten years, and have used one package of Thedford's Black-Draught, and haven't had the headache since the first dose.

A Common Cold.

A BAD cold is the foundation of many diseases and makes thousands of invalids every year. Cough medicines, "Consumption cures" and Balsams are all right in their proper places, but they only relieve the symptoms of a cold. The seat of the disease is in the pores of the skin, the blood circulation and the liver and bowels.

To Cure } Take a full dose of tea, made from Thed-
A Cold. } ford's Black-Draught powders, at bed-time
If there is fever attending the cold, take eighteen grains of quinine the following day, dividing it into three doses of six grains each, three hours apart.

This treatment will break up the hardest cold. It is sometimes necessary to repeat the Black-Draught the second night after, should the patient be exposed to bad weather, but those who have never tried it will be astonished at the quick relief.

It may not stop the cough, which should be treated with an appropriate remedy, but it will open the pores of the skin, start the blood to circulating freely, act upon the bowels, invigorate the liver and aid digestion. A few doses of Bronchomel or Bronchial Honey will quiet the cough and allay all irritation of the Bronchial tubes.

FACKLER'S STATION, JACKSON CO., ALA., }
March 14, 1890. }

I have been a constant user of Black-Draught and Bronchomel in my family for several years. They are both without rivals. I am just recovering from an attack of La Grippe cured by Black-Draught and Bronchomel. About a year ago, I was down with a severe "Influenza" for six weeks. After using one gallon of whiskey and race ginger with no benefit. I got a package of Black-Draught and some Bronchomel. I took a large dose of Black-Draught at night, and the next day took a little Bronchomel every ten minutes. The day after my cough was gone, and I was entirely well. It beats all on colds and coughs!

WM. STOGSDILL.

DEPORT, LAMAR CO., TEX., February 26, 1890.

We have ten in our family, and seven were down with La Grippe at one time, this week. I gave them Thedford's Black-Draught and quinine, and three of them are at school to-day.

JAMES B. NIXON.

THE STANDARD FOR FIFTY YEARS.

Thedford's Black-Draught was first used about the year 1835. It has been in constant use ever since, and over fifty years of medical research has failed to produce its equal for the treatment of Liver Diseases.

JENNY, MY OWN LOVE.

Jenny, my own true loved one,
I'm going far from thee,
Out on the bounding billows,
Out on the dark blue sea.
How I will miss you, my darling,
There, when the storm is raging high;
Jenny, my own true loved one,
Wait till the clouds roll by.

CHORUS.

Wait till the clouds roll, Jenny,
Wait till the clouds roll by ;
Jenny, my own true loved one,
Wait till the clouds roll by.

• Jenny, when far from thee, love,
I'm on the ocean deep,
Will you then dream of me, love,
Will you your promise keep ?
And I will come to you, darling,
Take courage, dear, and never sigh,
Gladness will follow sorrow—
Wait till the clouds roll by.

Wait till the clouds, etc.

Mrs. J. W. M. ATCHISON, PEORIA, TEXAS, Feb'y 18, 1892, says :

I have used Thedford's Black-Draught in my family for six years. It can't be beat for Chills and Fever, headache, bad colds and La Grippe.

Chills and Fever.

CHRONIC cases of chills and fever are frequently cured with Thedford's Black-Draught, when all other remedies fail. Torpid action of the liver is usually the cause of the disease, and while calomel may irritate and thus cause temporary action of the liver, the reaction from its effects is very debilitating. Thedford's Black-Draught is a stimulant, as well as a cathartic, and strengthens while it purges the system. If persons living in malarial climates will keep Black-Draught constantly, and take a dose when they feel symptoms of biliousness, they will never have chills and fever.

WINCHESTER, TEX., November 25, 1889.

I wish to tell you that your Thedford's Black-Draught has cured all of my family of chills and fever, when I could not get any thing else to relieve them. There is nothing equal to it on the market.

RICHARD HECK.

TYLER, SMITH Co., TEX., February 22, 1890.

I take pleasure in saying that I have been using Thedford's Black-Draught for five years. It is the best and cheapest liver medicine I can find. There has been only one dose of calomel used in my family for five years, and that did no good.

J. N. FRENCH.

BARTLETT, TEX., February 18, 1890.

I find Thedford's Black-Draught superior to any other medicine for chills and fever and other sickness.

L. B. WELLS

FERRIS, ELLIS Co., TEX., March 16, 1890.

My daughter has been in bad health for over a year, having chills every two or three weeks. I got a bottle of McElree's Wine of Cardui and a package of Thedford's Black-Draught, and they have done her more good than anything else she has taken.

A CURE FOR CHICKEN CHOLERA.

ADAIRSVILLE, GA., February 23, 1892.

I have tried Thedford's Black-Draught for Chicken Cholera and find it a sure cure for that disease.

MRS. M. A. LACY.

GOOSE AND INGUNS.

Oh, dear! I'm nearly starving,
I want something nice to eat,
I fancy myself carving
Big pies and joints of meat;
Roast pork or leg of mutton
To me would be of use;
And though I'm not a glutton,
Still I'd polish off a goose!

CHORUS.—For it is my opinion,
That stuffed with sage and inguns,
No bird that flies is half so nice,
As a goose with sage and inguns.

I'm very fond of turkey,
Spring chicken is good to take,
Of partridge or of pheasant,
A dinner I could make.
I like corned-beef and mustard,
Or sirloin steak with juice,
Or prairie hen or bustard fat,
But most I love a goose!
For it is my opinion, etc.

I've liver tried, and bacon,
And tripe both boiled and fried;
A sheep's head I've taken,
And put myself outside.
Though turtle-soup is filling,
And fishballs joy produce,
'Tis not the rapture or the joy,
That appertains to goose!
For it is my opinion, etc.

NELSON, Saline Co., Mo., Nov. 5, 1889.

I have been troubled with biliousness for twenty years,
and never found any permanent relief until I commenced
the use of Thedford's Black-Draught. G. C. KELLEMS.

Chicken Cholera.

If cholera appears among your chickens, mix some Black-Draught Stock Medicine with corn meal dough and feed them with this every morning. The disease will very soon disappear. Mop it down those too sick to eat.

MUNFORD, TALLADEGA Co., ALA.

I have found your Black-Draught to be a permanent cure for Chicken Cholera. I had one hundred Chickens. The Cholera was killing ten a day. I used Black-Draught one week, and the flock is now well and hearty. S. D. WRIGHT.

TYLER, TEX., March 5, 1890.

We would have lost all our chickens with cholera last year if we had not given them Thedford's Black-Draught. It is good for man or beast.

W. H. BICKLEY.

LEESBURG, CAMP Co., TEX., January 11, 1890.

I have been using Thedford's Black-Draught for ten years in my family and on my stock. I find it the best medicine for hogs, horses, cattle and chickens. I use it in preference to any stock powders.

A. J. BARNES.

Mrs. Annie Flemming, } Writes, Oct.
Pulaski, Tenn, } 21st, 1887: "I never tried your McElree's Wine of Cardui, but I know the Black-Draught to be an excellent remedy. I have had liver complaint since a child four years old; have tried dozens of remedies and as good physicians as there are in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, and I never have found anything to compare with Black-Draught. My mother, seventy years old, got a package of the Black-Draught dry powders in Alabama and it stopped the dumb chills on her after she had been having them for months. I know it will also cure the chicken cholera, for my sister and I both saved ours with it this summer, by giving them the Black-Draught in dough and also in the drinking water.

A VALUABLE WALLET

Will be sent by mail, with a trial package of Black-Draught to any person who wishes to try the medicine before buying, and who sends five two-cent postage stamps. The wallet is worth more than ten cents.

MAID OF ATHENS.

Maid of Athens, ere we part,
Give, oh, give me back my heart;
Or since that has left my breast,
Keep it now, and take the rest.
Oh! hear my vow before I go,
My dearest life, I love you!

CHORUS.—My dearest life, I love you!
My life, my life, I love you!
Then hear my vow before I go,
My dearest life, I love you!

By those tresses unconfined,
Wooded by each Ægean wind;
By those lips whose jetty fringe
Kiss thy soft cheek's blooming tinge,
By those wild eyes like the roe,
Hear my prayer before I go.—Chorus.

Maid of Athens! I am gone,
Think of me, sweet, when alone!
Tho' I fly to Islambol,
Athens holds my heart and soul.
Can I cease to love thee? No!
Hear, hear my vow before I go.—Chorus.

BLACKBURN, LA., Dec. 7th, 1891.

My mother was so weak she could scarcely walk, and had no appetite. After taking one bottle Wine of Cardui she is able to do her housework and eats any thing she wants.

HATTIE A. PHILLIPS.

Morning Bitters:

PUT a 25 cent package of Thedford's Black-Draught powders into a quart of good whisky. Let it stand over night, when it will be ready for use. If the bitters are too strong, add a quart of water, and you will still have bitters much stronger than the common bitters sold for a dollar a bottle. Sugar or spices may be added to suit the taste. These bitters will aid digestion, act gently on the bowels, improve the appetite, prevent malaria, chills, biliousness and fevers, and add to your strength.

Case } No. 84. } A hard-working man wrote us that he got tired too easy, couldn't keep up with his work, and the weeds were taking his cotton; had no appetite for breakfast, bad taste in his mouth, had dumb chills and was all out of fix generally. We advised him to make some Black-Draught bitters as described above, and to take a dram before or after each meal. A month later he wrote that he was stronger than he had been in five years, and could digest any thing not tougher than mule steak.

THIBODEAUX, LA., August 24, 1889.

Since I wrote you, a month or two ago, I have been using a bitters made of your Thedford's Black-Draught powders for chronic constipation, with excellent results. My liver is gradually assuming its normal functions, digestion is good, and I feel better in every way than I have for a long time; all of which I attribute to your valuable remedy.

H. H. GOODWYN.

BLUE RIDGE, COLLIN Co., TEX., }
February 2, 1890. }

My father has purchased several packages of Thedford's Black-Draught, and says it is a splendid medicine, and when it is put in whisky, as a bitters, it acts still better. MARY D. GREGORY.

HIDE BOUND STOCK.

POOR OLD SLAVE.

'Tis just one year ago to-day,
That I remember well,
I sat down by poor Nelly's side,
A story she did tell;
'Twas about a poor, unhappy slave,
That lived for many a year;
But now he's dead and in his grave,
No master does he fear.

CHORUS.—The poor old slave has gone to rest,
We know that he is free;
Disturb him not, but let him rest
Way down in Tennessee.

She took my arm, we walk'd along
Into an open field,
And here she paused to breathe awhile,
Then to his grave did steal.
She sat down by that little mound,
And softly whispered there,
"Come to me, father, 'tis thy child,"
Then gently dropped a tear.

But since that time, how things have changed,
Poor Nellie that was my bride,
Is laid beneath the cold grave-sod
With her father by her side.
I planted there upon her grave,
The weeping willow tree,
I bathed its roots with many a tear,
That it might shelter me.

SENIOR, TEXAS, Dec. 7th, 1892.

THEDFORD'S
Black-Draught
STOCK
MEDICINE.

A Liver Medicine for Horses,
Cattle, Hogs, Chickens.

Manufactured by Chattanooga Medicine Co.
Chattanooga, Tenn.

Many people do not seem to realize that Horses, Cattle, Hogs, and Poultry catch Cold, have Rheumatism, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Kidney Disease; that their bowels become constipated, producing colic and other diseases just the same as men and women.

Domestic animals really require more careful watching and treatment than human beings, because they are unable to reason and doctor themselves.

How to treat them.

Treat them when sick as you would a child, give them the same medicines for the same diseases, as you would take yourself. Give larger doses, because it takes more to bring them under the influence, but don't ever be satisfied to do. a sick horse or cow with "Condition Powder". They are intended to irritate the stomach, and so thus create an unnatural appetite.

Thedford's Black-Draught is an excellent medicine for stock, but it is too expensive for general use. To overcome this objection the Chattanooga Medicine Co. have prepared a

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK MEDICINE,

containing the same ingredients as Black-Draught in cheaper form, others being added to make it palatable

IT SAVED A LIFE.

MITCHELL, IND., Feb. 25, 1892.

I was afflicted with rheumatic pains, heart trouble, back-ache, constipation and had frequent hemorrhages until I tried Thedford's Black-Draught. Now I feel like a new person and that my life has been saved by your good medicine.

MRS. EMMET WRIGHT.

GO DOWN, MOSES.

When Israel was in Egypt land,
Let my people go.
Oppressed so hard dey couldn't stand,
Let my people go.
De Lord told Moses what to do,
Let my people go.
To lead the chillun of Israel through,
Let my people go.

CHORUS.—Go down, Moses, way down Egypt land,
Tell old Pharaoh, let my people go.

Dar was good old Moses and Aaron too,
Let my people go.
'Twas dey dat led de army through,
Let my people go.
Come along, Moses, you won't get lost,
Let my people go.
Stretch out your rod and come across,
Let my people go.

The devil thought he had me fast,
Let my people go.
I thought I'd break his chains at last,
Let my people go.
Take your shoes off from your feet,
Let my people go.
And walk into de golden street,
Let my people go.

MRS. R. CLEAVINGER, POLO, Mo., January 13, 1892, says:
Thedford's Black-Draught Stock Medicine is undoubtedly the best for milch cows. It increases the appetite and also the milk. It is the only medicine I ever saw that will cure Chicken Cholera.

Diseases of Animals

For which "Thedford's Black-Draught Stock Medicine" is recommended:

Constipation,
Liver Complaint,
Kidney Troubles,
Rheumatism,
Indigestion,
Loss of Appetite,
Colds and Coughs.
Founder,

Pneumonia,
Blind Staggers,
Colic,
Hide Bound,
Murrain,
Chicken Cholera,
Hog Cholera.

This Stock Medicine is intended to be mixed with ground feed and given to stock and poultry in the dry form.

THE ORDINARY DOSE for Dyspepsia, Constipation, Rheumatism, Kidney Troubles, Loss of Appetite, Hide Bound, Hard Colds, etc., is two or three large spoonfuls. This should be given frequently and will keep Stock and Poultry healthy. Don't wait until they are too sick to eat, or too poor to work. Whenever they show signs of being "bilious" or "droopy" give them a spoonful or two of the Medicine.

FOR CHICKEN CHOLERA put two or three spoonfuls in a pint of dough. Stuff those too sick to eat with the Medicine alone.

TO PREVENT CHOLERA in Hogs or Chickens, and Murrain in Cattle, when the disease prevails in the neighborhood, give a dose every second day in their food.

A PURGING DOSE. Where active purging is desired, use one-quarter pound of the Powder, which may be repeated in three hours.

MORE THAN PLEASED.

ELMORE STATION, ALA., Dec. 7, 1891.

Some time ago I bought a bottle of McElree's Wine of Cardui for my seventeen year old daughter. I am more than pleased with its results.

WILLIAM H. MEADOWS.

GOOD NEWS FROM HOME.

Good news from home—good news for me,
Has come across the deep blue sea,
From friends that I have left in tears—
From friends that I've not seen for years;
And since we parted long ago,
My life has been a scene of woe,
But now a joyful hour has come,
For I have heard good news from home.

No father's near to guide me now,
No mother's tear to soothe my brow,
No sister's voice falls on mine ear,
No brother's smile to give me cheer;
But, though I wander far away,
My heart is full of joy to-day,
For friends across the ocean's foam,
Have sent to me good news from home.

When shall I see that cottage door,
Where I've spent years of joy before?
'Twas there I knew no grief nor care,
My heart was always happy there;
Though I may never see it more,
Nor stand upon my native shore,
Where'er on earth I'm doom'd to roam,
My heart will be with those at home.

TRY, BEFORE YOU BUY.

A medicine may cure your neighbor but do you no good.
Send 10 cents for a Black-Draught wallet and try the medicine before spending your money for a large package.

McELREE'S WINE OF CARDUI.

We recommend McELREE'S WINE OF CARDUI for the following diseases ; viz :

For Delicate Ladies who need a tonic ;

For General Debility—to restore strength, flesh and energy.

For Young Girls developing into women.

For Delay of First Appearance of the Menses.

For Irregular Menstruation whether the periods are too long or too short.

For Suppressed or Delayed Menstruation.

For Profuse or too frequent Menstruation.

For Painful Menstruation.

For Chlorosis or Green Sickness.

For Leucorrhœa or Whites.

For Falling of the Womb.

For Change of Life, to impart strength.

For During Pregnancy, to give strength and to purify the blood.

Finally we recommend McELREE'S WINE OF CARDUI as a strengthening stimulating Tonic for Ladies, without intoxicating qualities, and harmless as pure water to any one in any condition.

It imparts strength to the muscles, quiets the nerves and improves the appetite. It is without intoxicating qualities, entirely harmless and may be taken with impunity by the most delicate lady or youngest child. It is particularly recommended to be taken daily during pregnancy.

The price of McElree's Wine of Cardui is $1 per bottle. Nearly all medicine dealers have it for sale. It cannot be sent by mail.

SAVED HER LIFE.

WEST, TEXAS, Dec. 10th, 1891.

My wife sends you many thanks. She says McEtree's Wine of Cardui saved her Life.

WILLIAM DENHAM.

You'll Be an Angel Bye and Bye.

No use for to weep and cry in de morn,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Dig up de taters, hoe up de corn,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Tie on de armor, armor of de Lord,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Put on the helmet, swing on the sword,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

CHORUS.

Hush, little baby, don't you cry,

You'll be an angel bye and bye ;

Singing sweetly all the day, all the day, happy day,

Hush, little baby, don't you cry,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Softly, sweetly, gently sleep,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Slowly.—Don't you cry.

Ole Satan's a comin', don't you run,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Put on de armor, level up you gun,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Aim for his bosom, hit him in the back,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Keep on a shootin', keep him off de track,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.—Chorus.

Put on de robe and frizzle up yo' har,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Get out yo' ticket for de gospel car,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Pin on de armor, armor of de Lord,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.

Watch for de train, jump on board,

You'll be an angel bye and bye.—Chorus.

WELSH, ALA., Feb'y 15th, 1892.

The one that got up Thedford's Black-Draught ought to live a thousand years. I cannot and will not try to keep house without it.

A Book Free.

ANY person who would examine the thousands of letters received by the Chattanooga Medicine Co., would be startled at the almost universal prevalence of female diseases among women, and surprised at the neglect of treatment and ignorance prevailing even among ladies of intelligence and education, regarding derangements of their natural functions. Girls approach the age of womanhood without the least preparation or knowledge of the phenomena about to occur. The fact that a large proportion of the diseases which afflict females, originate at this important age, seems to be generally unknown. Habits, resulting from this ignorance, are formed that have shortened the average life of women, and occasioned an amount of suffering that the world will never know.

Medical writers of books adapted to general reading, seem to have neglected this important class of diseases, and there is no work extant giving the information that every mother and girl should be familiar with.

To lessen, if possible, this ignorance, and to teach women how to treat themselves, when their commendable modesty prevents them from consulting their physician, Dr. McElree's book, entitled "FEMALE DISEASES; THEIR CAUSES, SYMPTOMS AND TREATMENT," has been prepared. It is written in language easily understood and contains much valuable information. We will be glad to send it to any lady who sends us her post-office address, free of charge. We charge nothing for the book, but will be obliged to ladies who enclose a postage stamp when sending for it, to pay the postage. Don't hesitate to send, however, if you do not enclose a stamp. We will send the book anyhow. Address all letters to

THE CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE Co.,

PRICES OF BLACK-DRAUGHT.

A Black-Draught Wallet contains a trial package, and is sent by mail for 10 cents. A 25-cent package contains five times as much medicine as a trial package. A Mammoth package contains five 25-cent packages, costs $1.00, and makes half a gallon of tea.

THE WAY TO KISS YOUR GIRL.

Peaches and cream once a week,
Kiss your girl on the right hand cheek,
Apples fried and apples dried,
Kiss her on the other side.

Your way displays a wretched taste;
Place your arm around her waist;
Raise her on her pink toe tips,
And plant it squarely on her lips.

I think my way is far the best;
Give your own dear girl a rest,
Set the nation in a whirl,
And kiss some other fellow's girl.

Take your girl in warm embrace,
Heart to heart, and face to face;
Eyes to eyes, and nose to nose,
A flipity flop, and away she goes.

What is the use of all this rhyme?
Take your girl at any time;
Squeeze her till the blushes come,
Close your eyes and—yum, yum, yum.

PRESCOTT, ARK., Jan'y 10th, 1892.

I have been troubled with Neuralgia and Headache for twenty years, and Thedford's Black-Draught does me more good than all other remedies that I have ever taken.

MRS. J. A. WESTROPE

A Wonderful Medicine.

SEVERAL years ago Rev. R. L. McElree was visiting the family of one of his parishioners, when his attention was called to a singular variety of herbs in their possession. He was told that during the early settlement of Tennessee a kinsman of this family, emigrating from North Carolina, pitched his camp for a night in the Cherokee Nation's reservation in northern Georgia, near an Indian village.

In his family was a girl about fifteen years old, just passing to womanhood. During the evening this girl was attacked by violent pains. An old Indian squaw witnessed it, and, without a word, went to her wigwam, selected some herbs from her store, prepared a decoction and administered it to the suffering girl. In five minutes the pain was entirely relieved.

The mother of the girl procured some seeds and raised the herbs from year to year. Mr. McElree carried some of the herbs away with him, and found that a wine made from them was almost a specific in the treatment of diseases peculiar to females.

In 1879 he solicited the Chattanooga Medicine Company to manufacture the wine and place it before the public. To test the value of it, the Medicine Company searched the country over, and treated every case of female disease they could hear of with the Wine of Cardui, making no charge unless a cure was accomplished.

About seven thousand cases were treated in this way, and less than five hundred failures were reported. Every class of female disease was treated; chronic cases of twenty years standing were cured. It was found that the Wine was not only an Emmenagogue, but a most astonishing tonic for women. Ladies who were weak, nervous and debilitated discovered that the Wine restored their strength, quieted their nerves, and increased their flesh and energy. Young girls were carried over a critical period in their lives by it, in perfect health and safety.

A VALUABLE BOOK FREE!

REV. R. L. McELREE's book on Female Diseases, their Causes, Symptoms and Treatment, tells how many hopeless invalids have been restored to health. It will be sent to any lady who sends her address to the Chattanooga Medicine Co.

IT'S NAUGHTY, BUT IT'S NICE.

Of love at first sight you have heard—

Well, I am a luckless cove,
And love a lass, upon my word,
Who lives in Spy Pond Grove;
At the charming game of croquet, I
Have been her partner twice;
I love her—ain't it naughty?
Well, it's naughty, but it's nice.

CHORUS.—You can not say it's wicked,
For it's not a glaring vice;
You can only say it's naughty;
Well, it's naughty, but it's nice.

Last night I called at Spy Pond Grove,
And asked if she would go
To walk, and we would talk of love;
At first she answered "No;"
Then consented, and we walked and talked,
I thought it Paradise.
But she said 'twas wrong; I answered,
Well, it's naughty, but it's nice.—Chorus.

I put my arm around her waist,
Her form I gently pressed,
And then she laid her lovely face
Upon my manly chest;
I kissed her two times on the cheek,
I would have kissed her thrice,
But I whispered "Ain't it naughty?"
She said, "Yes, but it's so nice."—Chorus.

HOWE, TEXAS, NOV. 26, 1889.

I have been using Thedford's Black-Draught in my family for eight years. My wife and myself both take it, and I have not paid a doctor's bill for either of us since we commenced using it.

J. E. SMITH.

HIDE-BOUND STOCK.

In nine cases out of ten, "hide-bound" horses, mules or cattle are suffering from constipation, biliousness or torpid liver. Nine-tenths of the medicines used by physicians are purgatives. Treat your stock as you would your children or yourself. We have never seen a horse that would not fatten, or shed off in the spring, if given a dose of Black-Draught Stock Medicine for three to ten days in succession.

HILLMAN'S STORE, ALA., September 25, 1889.

As a preventative and cure for all diseases arising from a disordered liver, I do not believe that there is a medicine made that equals Thedford's Black-Draught, for man or stock. I use it with great success in nearly every disease that attacks my stock.

J. C. CARTER.

GEORGETOWN, TEX., March 8, 1890.

I have used Thedford's Black-Draught on the farm and ranch, and find it a splendid medicine for stock, as well as for family use. Its effect is charming when given to horses in spring of the year.

JNO. D. CARLISLE.

BLIND STAGGERS.

LEESBURG, CAMP Co., TEX., January 24, 1890.

I want to say a few words to you about Thedford's Black-Draught. We have what is called Blind Stagers among the horses here in Texas. Some give one thing, and some another for it. I gave a 25-cent package of Black-Draught in one case, and it cured the horse without any other medicine. I have used it in all kinds of sickness amongst stock and chickens, and find it good every time.

A. J. BARNES.

CENTRE CITY, COOKE Co., TEX., June 25, 1890.

I have been using Thedford's Black-Draught for some time, and lately for staggers in horses. I believe it is good, but can tell better after further trial. So far, would recommend it for staggers. If a bad case, use about one and a half 25-cent packages.

J. W. JONES.

McELREE'S WINE OF CARDUI.

A vegetable preparation, harmless as water, yet the most effective remedy for Female Diseases known to Medical Science. Dr. McElree's pamphlet gives complete directions for the new Wine of Cardui treatment of Female Diseases. Sent to any lady for a postage stamp.

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY.

A winning way, a pleasant smile,
Dressed so neat, but quite in style;
Merry chaff, your time to while,
Has little Annie Rooney.
Every evening, rain or shine,
I make a call 'twixt eight and nine,
On her who shortly will be mine—
Little Annie Rooney.

CHORUS.—She's my sweetheart! I'm her beau!
She's my Annie! I'm her Joe!
Soon we'll marry, never to part!
Little Annie Rooney is my sweetheart!

The parlor's small, but neat and clean,
And set with taste so seldom seen;
And you can bet the household queen
Is little Annie Rooney.
The fire burns cheerfully and bright,
As a family circle round each night
We form, and ev'ry one's delight
Is little Annie Rooney.—Chorus.

We've been engaged close on a year.
The happy time is drawing near;
I'll wed the one I love so dear—
Little Annie Rooney.
My friends declare I'm in a jest,
Until the time comes will not rest;
But one who knows its value best,
Is little Annie Rooney.—Chorus.

HUNTSVILLE, TEXAS, Jan'y 28th, 1892.

I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for the past twelve years and can highly recommend it for torpid liver. It has saved the poor people of this county thousands of dollars in doctors' bills
